

Bridget Krause
1464 Whistlers Ln
Roseburg, OR 97470-7975

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Bridget Krause

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO.®

James Donaher Designs
James Donaher
1550 Bryant St Ste 710
San Francisco, CA 94103-4876

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

James Donaher Designs
James Donaher

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Geneva Warren
15 Meadowbrook Rd
Boonton, NJ 07005-9432

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Geneva Warren

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Berit Jordahl
1050 W 11TH St
San Pedro, CA 90731-3521

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Berit Jordahl

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Marion Buckley
806 Forest Ave Apt 2
Evanston, IL 60202-5518

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Marion Buckley

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Mikell Adams
1006 Wellington Rd
Lawrence, KS 66049-3029

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Mikell Adams

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Mikell Adams
1201 Wakarusa Dr Ste A1
Lawrence, KS 66049-3889

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Mikell Adams

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Larry Grewelle
2963 Old Farm Rd
Montgomery, AL 36111-1216

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Larry Grewelle

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Mary Emily Hogan
523 Delaronde St
New Orleans, LA 70114-1029

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Mary Emily Hogan

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Eugene D Labocetta
PO Box 1
Coeymans Hollow, NY 12046-0001

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Eugene D Labocetta

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Dorothy Corder
1192 Woody Creek Ln
Windsor, CA 95492-9486

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Dorothy Corder

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Rebekah M Mergenthal
5418 S Ridgewood Ct Apt 2E
Chicago, IL 60615-5348

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Rebekah M Mergenthal

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Cheshire Group
Shirley Grant
6590 Orchard Station Rd
Sebastopol, CA 95472-6230

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Cheshire Group
Shirley Grant

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Chris M Bennett
3570 Main Ranch Rd
Ukiah, CA 95482-9057

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Chris M Bennett

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Lee Stopher
822 E Todd Dr
Tempe, AZ 85283-4651

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Lee Stopher

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

John Royal
615 Griswold St Ste 1724
Detroit, MI 48226-3990

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

John Royal

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Karen Norrell
1347 E 25TH St
Idaho Falls, ID 83404-6213

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Karen Norrell

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Shanti E Bannwart
200 Ojo De La Vaca Rd
Santa Fe, NM 87508-8808

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Shanti E Bannwart

Seth Kaufman
3340 SE Morrison St
Apt 385
Portland, OR 97214-3191

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Seth Kaufman

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Susan D Morgan Vmd
8040 SW Ridgeway Dr
Portland, OR 97225-3042

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Susan D Morgan Vmd

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Joanne King
164 Butler Ave Apt N
Providence, RI 02906-5330

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Joanne King

Tenderloin Housing Clinic
Location Vincent
126 Hyde St
San Francisco, CA 94102-3606

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Tenderloin Housing Clinic
Location Vincent

Rebecca Bringewatt
18989 W 60TH PI
Golden, CO 80403-1037

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Bringewatt

Tenderloin Housing Clinic
Location Seneca
126 Hyde St
San Francisco, CA 94102-3606

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Tenderloin Housing Clinic
Location Seneca

Tenderloin Housing Clinic
Location Graystone
126 Hyde St
San Francisco, CA 94102-3606

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Tenderloin Housing Clinic
Location Graystone

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®